

DOGS! An Anthology: A collection of comics on our canine companions by writers & artists from India & the U.S.A.

Featuring artists and writers from India and USA, DOGS! An Anthology is a collection of comics on lives canine companions. In this collection you will encounter stories about dogs that are post-apocalyptic, self-reflective, murderous, environmentally conscious-and much more! This collection of comics was conceived after a series of meandering conversations with artists revealed a shared admiration for dogs amongst comics-wallahs, as well as a collective desire to explore what the world would look like from the other end of a snout. Perhaps imagining life as a dog could reveal something as yet unseen about our world to ourselves and our readers? The result is grungier, grittier, darker and, at times, more poignant than one could have predicted. Edited by Vidyun Sabhaney & Jeremy Stoll, this collection features unusual dogs with unusual stories-some dogs chat about life in big cities, whereas others find ways to stop littering. Some dogs appear in dreams, while others rescue humans in a post-apocalyptic landscape. Self-published comics have always been a space to tell stories that otherwise may get overlooked, and this collection on dogs is just that! Proceeds from sales will go to Last Day Dog Rescue in Livonia, Michigan.
