

Where are you Harshita?

Hey everyone! My name is Harshit Singh and I am 14 years old. The first day of school is very interesting and weird day for us isnt it? But there will be not any person whose first day of school will be such unique and funny as my sisters day was. Her name is Harshita (My name Harshit and her name Harshita, isnt it very interesting!?) In this book which is Where are you Harshita I have written what incidents were happened on that day. You will think what may have happened. Well, nothing was happened except that she ran away from school and everyone were just trying to find her whether her teacher, me, my mom or other children! Everyone were worrying about her but she doesnt cared about anything and she was hiding somewhere (Which I am not gonna tell in this summary of the book). You dont know what a day that was. This was the most memorable day of our family. This book is especially for the children. It is not a novel so children will not be bored. This time my book is full of colorful pictures. The book is written in very easy language which can be understood by all. I hope that you will like the book and appreciate the efforts I put on writing this book. Thank you and never stop reading! Note - The spelling and grammatical mistakes ( if you see) are to make the book look realistic. This makes more attraction to people because people use that language in their normal life. Thats all!
